

HANNAH & ELIA

fine cooking great events

Picnic and snack lunches

When we were children and used to help with the hay harvest, in the afternoon our mother would bring us a snack lunch in a large basket, covered with a cloth. It was full of tasty things and we would eat it sitting in the hay. Today we call this a picnic basket, and each guest receives their own picnic basket once they reach the green meadow at the edge of the wood. Having a picnic can mean a green meadow, the edge of the wood or a small stream in the middle in the forest. Or, in the evening, with a fire burning under a large copper pot cooking potatoes, for South Tyroleans this is a merende. Merende with potatoes from a copper pot, smoked meat, fine cheese and some little extras – not forgetting Luise Unterfrauner's home-made wholemeal bread baked with apples, served warm – simply unforgettable.

"A unique experience – simply fantastic!"

Karsten Schubert, Germany.

HANNAH & ELIA

fine cooking great events

Picnic and snack lunch

Snack – cheese buffet

Torches are burning on the lawn.
A fire is burning under the large copper cauldron.
Potatoes are cooking inside.
The finest cheeses are served on long wooden boards.

The finest cheeses from special cheese producers
served on a 2-metre long wooden board

Served with appropriate pickled fruits, chutneys and preserves

Pickled artichokes, dried tomatoes, olives and black olive paste

Home-made apple wholegrain bread

Hot potatoes from the copper cauldron and finally we serve...

Warm poppy-seed doughnuts from the Ulten Valley

HANNAH & ELIA

fine cooking great events

Snack lunch and picnic basket

A special snack lunch

Torches are burning on the lawn.
A fire is burning under the large copper cauldron.
Potatoes are cooking inside.
The finest cheeses are served on long wooden boards.

The finest cheeses from special cheese producers
served on a 2-metre long wooden board

Served with appropriate pickled fruits or preserves
Pickled artichokes, dried tomatoes, pickled mushrooms, olives and black olive paste

Speck from the Passeier Valley, smoked meat from Völs, smoked hard sausages and chamois sausages from the Eisack Valley
Smoked fillet of pork from the Vinschgau

Hot potatoes from the copper cauldron

Home-made apple wholegrain bread

and as dessert we serve

Warm poppy-seed doughnuts

Snack lunch and picnic basket

Picnic basket

A basket full of delicacies to enjoy outside on the grass.

The finest cheeses and hams

Fresh butter from Schabs

Butter croissants

Home-made jam

Home-made bread such as wholegrain spelt bread, apple wholegrain bread and Butterzopf (sweet white bread plait)

Goat's milk yoghurt from the Passeier Valley

Home-made seasonal fruit juices

Slices of duck with grilled pepper salad

Salad with shrimps, avocados and tomato cubes

Home-marinated salmon

Roast beef rolls stuffed with grilled vegetables

Melon in Parma ham with mint

A variety of seasonal fruits

Coffee and tea or wine and fruit juice and water

